

CSR Portal has been identified as numbers companies are duplicated in their portal so as there is no place to check exhaustive list of actual unique companies who have filed their CSR filings. So is the reason factly has followed a strategy to find and remove such duplications in below mentioned ways. Before going into details lets understand when does a CIN of a company changes

When Does a Company's CIN Change?

The Corporate Identification Number (CIN) is a 21-character alphanumeric identifier assigned at incorporation. It reflects a company's legal identity, governance structure, industry, and location. While generally permanent, specific legal shifts trigger a CIN modification:

1. Change in Listing Status: Transitioning between unlisted (U) and listed (L) alters the 5th character. Governed by SEBI LODR Regulations (2015), this is auto-updated by the MCA after listing/delisting procedures.
2. Change in Registered Office State: Moving between states changes the state code (7th–8th characters). Requires a special resolution (Section 13(4)), Regional Director approval (Form INC-23), and filing INC-28.
3. Change in Company Type: Converting between private and public status (Section 14) alters the 6th character. Requires filing MGT-14 and INC-27, resulting in a new Certificate of Incorporation.
4. Change in Main Business Activity: Altering the object clause (Section 13(1)) that leads to a new NIC code changes the 9th–13th characters. Requires a special resolution and filing MGT-14.

What Does NOT Trigger a Change:

- Name changes (Section 13(2)).
- Changes in directors or capital.
- Relocation within the same state.

Compliance Tip: Under Section 12(3), the CIN must appear on all business documents. Post-change, companies must update banks, tax authorities (GST), and statutory records to avoid penalties under Section 12(8).
